The image displays a musical score for piano and voice across four systems. The first system (measures 59-60) features a piano accompaniment with a complex bass line and a treble line containing a long, sustained chord. The second system (measures 61-62) shows the piano accompaniment continuing with a more active bass line, while the treble line remains mostly silent. The third and fourth systems (measures 63-64) show the piano accompaniment continuing with a more active bass line, while the treble line remains mostly silent. The score is written in a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat) and a common time signature (C). The piano part is written in a grand staff (treble and bass clefs), and the voice part is written in a single staff (treble clef). The score is numbered 59, 60, 61, and 62 at the beginning of each system. A measure rest is indicated by a horizontal line with a vertical bar in the middle. A triplet of eighth notes is indicated by a '3' over the notes.

This musical score is for a piece in B-flat major, indicated by two flats in the key signature. It begins at measure 73. The first system features a piano accompaniment with a complex bass line including triplets and a treble line with chords and moving lines. The second system shows the continuation of the piano part, with the right hand playing a simple melody and the left hand providing harmonic support. The third system introduces three additional staves, all of which are currently empty, suggesting they are for other instruments or voices that enter later in the piece.

The musical score for page 81 is written in B-flat major (two flats) and 4/4 time. It consists of three systems of staves. The first system is a grand staff with a piano accompaniment. The piano part has a complex texture with many beamed sixteenth and thirty-second notes in the right hand, while the left hand plays a simpler bass line. A fermata is placed over the final measure of the piano part. The vocal line, written in a single staff, begins with a whole note chord, followed by a half rest, and then a half note chord. A fermata is placed over the final measure of the vocal line. The second system continues the piano accompaniment with similar complex textures. The vocal line continues with a half note chord, followed by a half rest, and then a half note chord. A fermata is placed over the final measure of the vocal line. The third system consists of three empty staves, indicating that the music continues on the next page.
